GRAYS' AUXILIARY GOES INTO REALM OF DISCARD

Organization Disbands After Season of Strife and Months of Service.

ONE FACTION FORMS NEW BODY

Having Relatives Among Soldiers Force Resignation of Women Who Worked During War

After months of patriotle service in behalf of the members of the Grays Battalion and after raising a large sum for the entertainment of the men of the organization upon their return to Lieir home city, the Woman's Auxillary of the Grays' Association last night held its final meeting and officially went out of existence after having been asked to disciontinue its work by Major Lawrence T. Price, acting, it is said, for women having husbands, sons, fathers and sweethearts in the battalion.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. A. Stack, wife of Major W. A. Stack, who commanded the Grays overseas, another organization has been formed, which has taken for itself the name of the Woman's Auxiliary. It is formed entirely of women directly connected with the Grays, who were formerly in the original auxiliary and resented the activity of the women not directly connected with the organization after the homecoming celebrations, it is understood.

This led to the suggestion of Major This led to the suggestion of Major Price that the original auxiliary go out of existence. It was stated last night on good authority that Mrs. Stack, at the same meeting at which Major Price disrupted the body of women who had labored for the Grays in spite of the fact that they were not related to them, declared that she proposed to form an overseas club exclusively for women related.

Change in Sentiment.

This she did, it was said, but later it took for itself the name of the Woman's Auxiliary. The so-called inconsistency of Mrs. Stack was pointed out at the meeting last night by one of the original members of the body who declared that Mrs. Stack had stated publicly that she would not "have the presidency of the Woman's Auxiliary on a silver waiter," but thought that the tine time was ripe for a "sentimental" organization, and not for reoneymaking by giving dances. Money raised by the original Woman's Auxiliary in this manner provided many comforts for the Grays and helped to give them a rousing homecoming reception.

It was voted last night to turn over give them a rousing homecoming reception.

It was voted last night to turn over a surplus of $87.32 in the treasury of the auxiliary to Major Saville for use in building a memorial to the Grays who lost their lives in France. The letter which will accompany the fund when it is sent to Major Saville will state that the women pledged themselves to raise $1,000 for the monument fund, but that this was rendered impossible after the disruption of their organization after the attacks of the "old-liners" in the Grays. The surplus of $87.32 is now in the hands of Mrs. Lawrence T. Price, who was treasurer of the original auxiliary. She will be asked to turn it over to a committee composed of Mrs. Robert F. Hudson, retiring president of the original group; Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Powell and Miss Loulie Milhiser.

Hold Secret Meeting.

Another letter will be sent to Captain Crawford, of the Grays, explaining the situation to him. It is understood that Captain Crawford made efforts to conciliate the two elements, but was unsuccessful. The reorganized Woman's Auxiliary met last Tuesday night without the knowledge of the members not having relatives among the men in the Grays and pledged its support to the men. Mrs. Robert F. Hudson, president of the original auxiliary, was out of Richmond at the time the meeting of the relatives was the meeting of the relatives was the auxiliary and fashioned them to provide for a permanent organization, with an annual election of officers. Mrs. Hudson read these by-laws last night and noted the number of times the word "annual" occurred. However, when Major Price asked the auxiliary to cease operations he declared that it was formed only to work for the home-coming celebration is the was pointed out. was formed only to work for the home-coming celebration, it was pointed out. Before the close, of the meeting last night a rising work of thanks was given Mrs. Robert F., Hudson for her activity as head of the auxiliary.

Brnest B. Chamberlain, State song leader for the Y. M. C. A., has submitted a report to the executive committee of the association in Virginia which gives some idea of the scope of the work being carried on along this line by the Y. M. C. A. It is stated that under the auspices of the State music department of the organization that 111 community "sings" were held under Mr. Chamberlain's supervision and leadership, the total attendance reaching considerably above the 20,000 mark.

These "sings" were led by Mr. Chamberlin in thirty-two different communities in Virginia between August and October of this year. The meetings at which singing is conducted in the various communities are held in connection with the churches and schools throughout Virginia.

Mr. Chamberlain has recently returned from a song leaders' conference in New York which was called and held in connection with the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A.

Howlixers Hold Meeting.
Four new members joined the Howitzers' Association at their reorganization meeting last night at the Howitzers' Armory, on North Eighth Street. Plans to give a dance for the members and former members of the One Hundred and Eleventh Field Artillery were made. None of the men who joined the organization were signed up, and no action is yet on foot to start enlistments, but it is hoped to arouse enough enthusiasm among the men formerly members of the Howitzers to till the ranks when the campaign is actively started.

To the Officers and Employes of the American Locomotive Company

If the "wheels of industry" in this country would cease turning the whole country would come to a full stop.

You make the wheels that make the wheels of industry turn; and you make the engines that drive these wheels.

Your business spells Progress, and your locomotives stand for Potential Energy.

And now mark the similarity between your business and ours.

The American National Bank has stood for Progressiveness since its organization twenty years ago, and every account in our bank means potential energy, stored-up power on the part of each depositor.

As an engine cannot be driven without steam, so the success of a man's life depends largely upon the driving force of his bank account.

Without it his business and the ordinary activities of his life would be at a stand-

We invite each one of you to open an account with this bank so that you can drive full-steam ahead along the Road to Success.
